

Week of 10/19/2020

By Shauna Krause, President, Capitol Services, Inc.

I have helped contractors in almost every state, but most often work with CA, AZ and NV. So, we begin and end this time with Silver State inquiries. In between, I also sandwich in two 'slices' from our Golden one!...

Q: Can we form a Joint Venture in Nevada with another contractor if we have a "B-2" (Residential and Small Commercial) and the other contractor has a "B" (General Building) license, or do both contractors need to have the same classification?

A: No, both contractors do not need to have the same classification to form a Joint Venture in Nevada.

Q: We currently have a "C-10" (Electrical) Contractors license in CA. We had some issues with our license come up recently, and in speaking with our attorney he informed us that we shouldn't be doing trenching with our "C-10" license. I am surprised by this as we have always done trenching when doing our electrical projects.

A: "C-10" (Electrical) contractors can perform incidental trenching for the placement of conduit and wiring on their projects.

Q: I recently purchased a painting franchise and I applied for a contractor's license but haven't completed the application process yet. What will happen if I contract without a license? Is there some sort of temporary license I can be issued while the application is being reviewed?

A: No matter how you 'slice' it, the CSLB does not issue temporary licenses. As you may already be aware, it is illegal for an unlicensed contractor to contract for work over $500 for labor and materials. The CSLB has an investigative team that frequently conducts stings and sweeps to apprehend unlicensed contractors and it can result in a misdemeanor, jail time, and fines. Repeat offenders can face even harsher penalties.

Additionally, contractors performing work without a license have no legal right to enforce contracts, so consumers are not legally required to pay contractors operating illegally. To slang it's, no license, no 'dough'.

Q: I am currently working on getting an application together for our company to obtain a Contractor's license in Nevada. Our financial statement includes several of our subsidiaries. Will each of our subsidiary companies need to complete indemnification paperwork?

A: No, the subsidiaries do not need to indemnify. If the companies were "Affiliates" as opposed to subsidiaries, then the Nevada Board would require indemnification paperwork.

INTRODUCTION

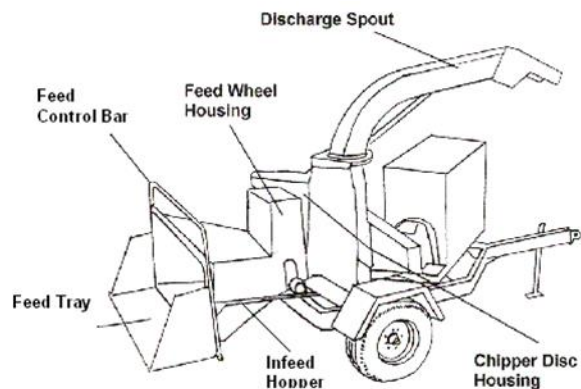

Wood chippers are a powerful piece of equipment commonly used for brush clearing or tree trimming jobs. To avoid the devastating results that can occur after even a split second of misuse, you should follow all required safety rules given to you by your employer.

OSHA REQUIREMENTS

The following are safety requirements as required by OSHA:

- Each tree or brush chipper shall be equipped with an infeed hopper no less than 85 inches.
- Each tree or brush chipper not equipped with a mechanical infeed system shall have a flexible anti-kickback device installed in the infeed hopper.
- All brush chippers shall be equipped with a locking device on the ignition system to prevent unauthorized starting of the equipment.
- Trailer chippers detached from trucks shall be chocked or otherwise secured during use.
- Cutting bar and blades shall be kept sharp, properly adjusted and otherwise maintained in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations.
- Each tree or brush chipper shall have a quick stop and reversing device on the infeed. The activating lever for the quick stop device shall be located within easy reach of the operator.
- Employees shall never place hands, arms, feet, legs, or any other part of the body on the feed table when the brush chipper is in operation or the rotor is turning.

PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT

Baggy clothing and loose jewelry should be avoided when chipping. Instead, you should wear:

- Protective gloves with no cuffs and sturdy boots
- Eye and face protection
- A protective helmet or hard hat
- Hearing protection, if required

ADDITIONAL SAFE WORK PRACTICES

The two main hazards when working with a wood chipper are referred to as “caught-in” or “struck-by” hazards. To help protect you from both of these, these additional safety guidelines are recommended:

- Position the discharge shoot away from other employees or pedestrians.
- Never work alone when chipping. It is good practice to have an additional worker helping you and able to activate the emergency stop device in case of an accident.
- Only feed small bits of debris into the chipper at a time.
- Always inspect the material to be chipped for nails, stones, or other objects that may cause a jam before you feed into the chipper. These may also get caught and thrown back at you.
- Do not stand directly in front of the infeed chute when feeding material. This will give you easy access to emergency stop devices and reduce your chance of getting “caught-in”.
- Use a wooden push tool to feed material into the chipper instead of your hands.
- Never climb on any part of the chipper while it is running.

CONCLUSION

If all safety requirements and recommendations are followed when operating a wood chipper, the chance of sustaining an injury is not likely. Safety should be your first priority when chipping wood.
